TIPS WHILE FOLLOWING TIME TABLE

- Keep 2nd weekend and 4th weekend of the month, or any day of a month for revision of whatever you have studied so far.
- Revision is important as what you have studied in September ,if you don't revise it in October then in by end of November when you open it you could be in trouble as its hard to remember everything
- Make sure you get a sleep for minimum 8hrs. When you are fresh you can completely concentrate, grasp things well and stay active.
- Cut down on all the distractions for 1 month: Get together, parties, family gatherings etc.
- Make a habit of making notes about whatever you study.
- Stick STICKER notes in the book itself. Make short bullet points and stick it near the topic, it helps you when you revise. Examples given in lectures can be noted this way which can help you recollect the other explanations given in class room easily.
- Cheating on your time table is allowed but keep in mind its consequences.ie (one more attempt).
- You might cheat once or twice. But make sure the time wasted must be covered by shortening your break.
- Everything will not be executed on exact time as you are not a robot.
5-10mins deviation from time is normal. Initial days will be tough but follow it dedicatedly ,it will become your routine and then habit.

ALL THE BEST FOR FUTURE.
